ADD 2 CUBA, WASHINGTON (UPI-22)

A FLORIDA CONGRESSMAN SAID THAT THE CENTRAL INTELLIGENCE AGENCY MAY HAVE BEEN RESPONSIBLE FOR THE GAP IN PHOTOS OF RUSSIAN MISSILE SITES CONSTRUCTION IN CUBA LAST FALL.

"THE IMPLICATION CLEARLY EXISTS THAT THE CIA," REP. PAUL G. BOGGS, D-FLA., SAID "MAY HAVE BEEN THE STOPGAP WHICH ACCOUNTED FOR THE TIME LAG IN WHICH THE RUSSIANS ALMOST COMPLETED THEIR MISSILE INSTALLATIONS IN CUBA."

NO RECONNAISSANCE PHOTOS HAVE EVER BEEN MADE PUBLIC FROM SEPT. 5 UNTIL THE MISSILES WERE DISCOVERED OCT. 14.

IN A SPEECH PREPARED FOR HOUSE DELIVERY, ROGERS SAID NO PICTURES SHOWING MISSILE INSTALLATIONS WERE GIVEN TO THE PRESIDENT UNTIL AERIAL RECONNAISSANCE WAS TRANSFERRED FROM THE CIA TO THE AIR FORCE.

ROGERS AGAIN RECOMMENDED A CONGRESSIONAL COMMITTEE TO OVERSEE THE CIA AND SAID THERE WERE "SERIOUS KINKS IN OUR INTELLIGENCE SYSTEM."
